REMARKS

25X1X

1. The Bredow (N 53/2 55) airfield was not occupied. A woman resident said that planes landed at the field almost every day. The landing field was a meadow, about 200 x 800 meters, which was surrounded by fields. There was no runway. A path crossed the airfield. No buildings, radio stations or railroad spur tracks were at the field. No Soviet soldiers were quartered in Bredow. *

- * [REDACTED] Comment. For sketch of airfield, see Annex. The status of the field is confirmed by other sources. The information that the field is used by individual planes is believed possible since other sources previously reported that PO-2s landed on the landing field. See [REDACTED] The planes presumably are courier aircraft, but it is not known to which unit they are assigned.
